

GREEN POINT
RESEARCH

Social Responsibility Policy

Green Point Research is committed to the sustainability and integrity of all aspects of our hemp supply chain in which we operate. We strictly comply with applicable laws, operate in a fair and responsible manner, and strive to be a beneficial and constructive supply chain partner to our stakeholders. We address key aspects and concerns of the hemp industry and the farming and industrial communities in which we operate.

Green Point Research supports the communities and regions in which we operate by providing farmers access to the hemp industry and offering our employees a fair and safe working environment. Green Point Research further commits to support its farmer and employee communities through financial investments, programs, projects and volunteer opportunities aligned with local business activities and the overall needs of the community.

Our company relies on sustainable natural resources, thriving ecological systems and wholesome communities. To this end, Green Point Research strives to be the best partner to local and global citizens, as well as the governments which represent them.

Our team of hemp industry professionals shall develop local policies and programs, commit organizational resources and educate our workforce to adhere to applicable laws, Green Point Research's Code of Conduct and other compliance policies, and this Social Responsibility Policy. This policy will be regularly reviewed by the Green Point Research's Board and amended as needed.